

I support satellite radio providing localized traffic and weather information. It is refreshing to have such information available and NOT surrounded by the uncouth babble that passes for local drive-time radio. I am easily enough of a First Amendment advocate to only want the most egregious of the local broadcasting efforts controlled re: content; and, that same belief drives my concerns that muzzling the satellite radio effort to provide local weather and traffic reports is little more than a First Amendment violation.